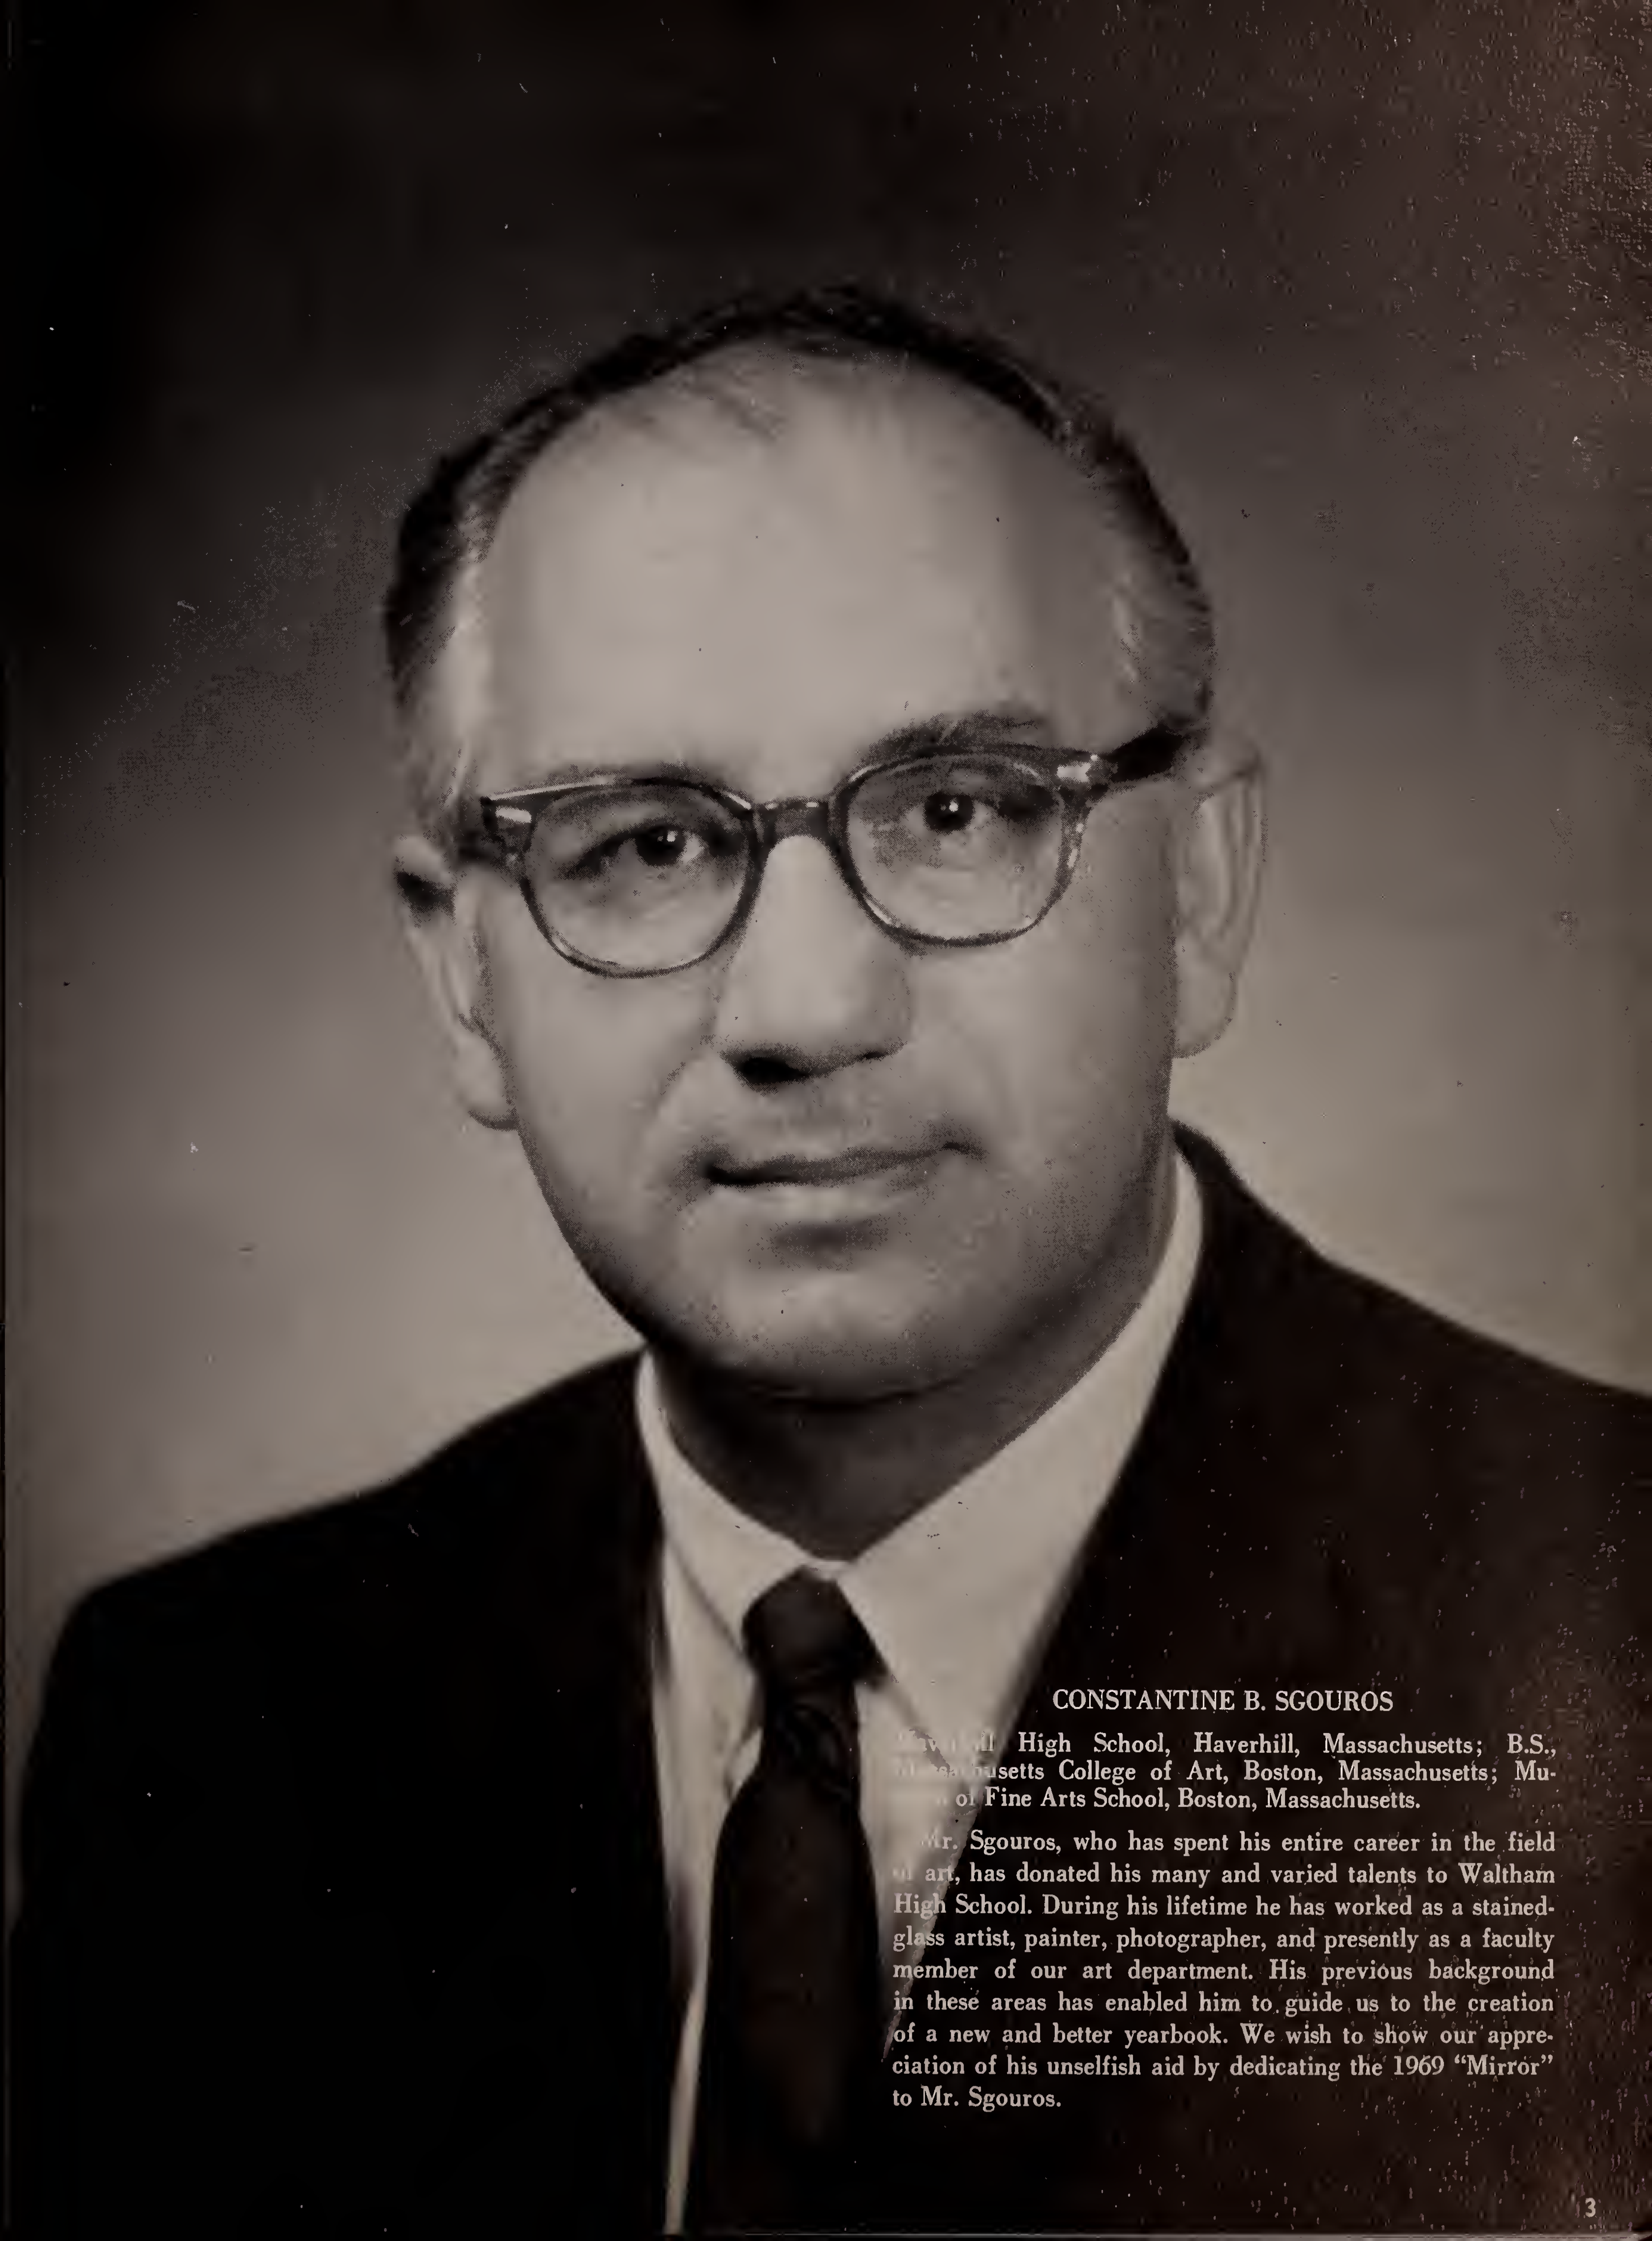
Mr. Levey's active participation and cooperation in the activities of the youth of Waltham and his diversified interests in all aspects of education have indeed made him a superb housemaster to us for the past three years. His administrative training, his experience as an educator, and, above all, his fairness and sincere consideration for the students with whom he works assure Mr. Levey of the continued admiration and esteem of the class of 1969.



CONSTANTINE B. SGOUROS

We wish to show our appreciation of his unselfish aid by dedicating the 1969 "Mirror" to Mr. Sgouros.

Vocational-School

The objective of vocational education has always been, and shall continue to be, the preparation of boys—and girls in increasing numbers—for profitable employment upon graduation from high school. Through the development of occupational skills, under conditions approximating as realistically as possible those of the world of work, the student learns to relate in meaningful fashion the theoretical "why" of the classroom to the practical "how" of the shop or laboratory.

While trade and industry have an almost insatiable appetite for the potentially skilled craftsman and technician, they have need, too, for the well-motivated but lesser-skilled vocational graduate. Thus it is that we would be remiss in our dedication to the goals of the vocational education if we did not make provisions for both types of students.

In Memoriam

Never in the history of Waltham High School have so many owed so much to one man and his beneficent influence. He was a considerate and kindly gentleman, a loyal friend, a reverent and pious person deeply devoted to his religion. Quiet and unassuming, his presence nonetheless was always felt in any gathering, and his counsel respected whenever Waltham basketball boys of the last thirty-five years have met and reminisced. He gave of himself unselfishly for many young men so that they could pursue their higher education. He provided the spark, the enthusiasm, the inspiration for dozens of his players. Much as he loved his victories, he considered basketball merely a stepping stone to a better life. Art Quinn was fine and honorable and highly admired by everyone who came in contact with him. With the passing of this truly good man, Waltham has lost a dedicated director; and his many associates and colleagues, a sincere companion. His loss has been immeasurable to our city, our schools, and to his legion of friends. He had an abiding love for and an uncommon devotion to the game of basketball; therefore it is a source of great satisfaction to know that he was inducted into the State Basketball Coaches Hall of Fame only last October. I can see him now as he received the Paul Revere bowl engraved with his name; I know that he prized it highly as one of his most cherished possessions and considered it to be the most treasured recognition of his meritorious career. Nevertheless he passed off lightly the honor which he so richly deserved. It is a closing and fitting commentary that I have never heard a person speak unkindly of Arthur Quinn. With his soft voice and pleasing tones, he spoke well of everyone—even his athletic opponents. What finer tribute can we Boosters pay to his memory than to make particular mention of the warm feeling and esteem that other athletic directors, coaches, and players have held for Arthur Quinn.

The above eulogy was written by Mr. Richard Hood, a colleague and life-long friend of Mr. Quinn.

SENIOR ACTIVITIES

— Say It With Music —

Encomiums greeted "Say It With Music," the revue that featured one hundred and fifty-seven members of the Class of 1969. Kennedy Memorial Junior High auditorium filled to capacity for four performances during Thanksgiving week.

The Modern Minstrels' portion presented skilled dancers, deft tambourine men, talented specialty performers, and a one hundred and ten voice chorus strikingly attired in black and white. For the second half, the top tunes of Irving Berlin provided the theme for the beautifully costumed and expertly staged production sequences that led to a climatic moment when over one hundred pretty brides and their elegant grooms thrilled the audiences with "An Old-Fashioned Wedding."

The entire production was directed by Mr. Robert Eagle who was assisted by Alisca Czarnowski. Mr. Edward D. May, III, was the accompanist.

"This Magic Moment"

On a beautiful Friday evening, May 16th, the Class of 1969, under the supervision of F. Joseph Levey, held their Senior Prom, "This Magic Moment." Dinner and dancing took place in the main ballroom of the King Philip in Wrentham, Mass. After a full course dinner of either roast beef or baked stuffed chicken, the dedication dances began.

At approximately ten o'clock P.M. the queen and her court, who had been previously chosen by five photographers from Loring Studio's, were announced. The queen was Susan DiLorenzo and her court consisted of Joan Quinn, Kathleen O'Brien, and Virginia Oatt.

The guests of honor, Mr. and Mrs. George E. P. Husson, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Viscarello, Mr. and Mrs. Edward D. May, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Gerard Belliveau, Mr. and Mrs. Almon Morang, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Czarnowski, and Mr. Robert J. Eagle were received in a reception line.

"This Magic Moment" proved to be a memorable one.

We wish to extend our thanks to the prom committee, Sheila Callahan, Kevin Scannell, Susan Parella, John Romeo, Judith Ristuccia, and Janet Shedd. We would especially like to thank Mr. Levey for all the time and patience he contributed in making our prom a great success.

Affirmation

We are as infants
Learning to walk.
We stand clutching at a chair
For support.
We are unsure, unsteady,
Suddenly aware for the first time.
And we feel a temporary
Panic.
Will we fall or not?
We falter, we wobble,
Our limbs seem unable
To muster up the strength
Which we were so certain
We would have for this moment.
Then looking ahead,
We see today's dreams
Beckoning as a mother
Holding out her arms,
Coaxing.
Her inspiring whispers
Suddenly making our legs
Strong.
Forget the chair;
The future holds no room for crutches.

Destination

The massive wave swells and crashes
Against the rocks.
But why?
Where does it come from?
Why does it land here?
Across the horizon, the first indication,
a white flash
Swirling, and then merging again with the sea.
It continues speeding along towards an unknown destination,
As if pulled by an unseen attraction.
With mounting force it sweeps onward
Growing.
By some strange reason clinging together.
Attempting to shield itself from the reality of the shore.
And then as suddenly as it became a unit, it disbands.
Cresting, foaming, crashing
As if by prearranged signal.
And the wave separates
Going in various directions.
Parts are left in the sand to saturate and seep inwards.
Others find nooks in worn down
rocks and remain sheltered and protected there.
Many are swept back into the sea
down as mysteriously as they came forth
How many do we know nothing of,
where do they go?
Who can determine where one will land?
No one, and as we wait in silence for an answer another flash of white appears across the horizon.

1969 Class History

Since the class of 1969 is somewhat unique in that it is probably (possibly?) the last class to graduate from this building, perhaps we wish to reflect upon our past three years a bit more than previous classes.

As bewildered sophomores we entered the hallowed structure with fear and anticipation. Did the elevators in the new building really get stuck between floors? Why didn't they tell us that we had to dissect frogs in biology? What was the name of that guidance counselor who guided us into Latin II? We survived the year, however, and found that it wasn't really too bad at all. In fact, the football, hockey, and basketball games made it more than bearable, but we looked forward to increasing our status in the fall by moving onward and upward to become members of the junior class.

September '67 marked the beginning of our knowledgeable year, that is we knew or almost knew our way around the school. It was the year we finally saw the fourth floor (And we believed them when they told us it was condemned!) and added our artistic touch to its already ornate walls while preparing decorations for our junior prom which was indeed an "Enchanted Evening." We moved past the junior prom and struggled through PSAT's and SAT's and those time-consuming bomb scares until that glorious day in June '68 when we became THE SENIORS.

Senior year was to say the least a year of mixed emotions. College boards popped up, again and we had the extra burden of those lengthy applications. Senior, slump struck as usual a while after Senior Revue which was definitely one of the highlights of the year for many of us who took part in it. Mid-year passes by, and the ski enthusiasts of W.H.S. were in ecstacy when blizzards kept us home for a total of three weeks. Snow mounds and senior study habits melted in the spring thaw. Blackboards, calendars, and desks bore daily announcements — 33 days to go! Colleges informed us of their decisions, ACCEPTANCES and rejections. Finally the Senior Prom which we had awaited so long came upon us, and that "Magic Moment" passed as suddenly as it came.

At last, we thought, Graduation. But then, we looked back. It was time to take the big step, but were we ready? The bosses and professors whom we were to encounter next year wouldn't be like the interested teachers or guidance counselors of the past three years. They expected us to be mature young men and women ready to take upon ourselves the responsibilities of an adult. As we thought back to the insecure and unsure sophomores we had been, we became aware of our progress. Many people had demonstrated their confidence in us. We were permitted to drive cars. We held jobs. Colleges accepted us. And as others put their confidence in us, we became more confident in ourselves. In short, we gradually developed into individuals, each with his own ideas, ideals, and goals. Our hesistant steps toward the door of the future no longer hesitated. We were capable beings, prepared to take our places in society.

ACTIVITIES

Drama Club

The Drama Club increased its activity again this year, and, in addition, the membership rose above the hundred mark. Bi-monthly meetings provided a foundation for the major productions of the year—The Man Who Came to Dinner, An Evening of One-Act Plays, and, in association with the Music Department, The Music Man.

For the second consecutive year Waltham hosted a preliminary festival for the Massachusetts High School Drama Guild, and high schools from eleven other communities vied for regional honors.

The New York trip in April was a highlight of the year for the seventy-five members of the Club. Under the leadership of the dynamic officers, the first annual banquet for members and alumni was instituted.

The Man Who Came To Dinner

Back Row: Arthur Bennett, Richard Aubert, Mark Glenn, Charles Smelledge, Glenn Richardson, Leo Lawless, Kevin Scannell, Robert Delorey, James Gerilamo, Charles Flanders, Charles Egirous, Nick Saran, Ka,es Scanlon.

One of the most popular Broadway comedies, Moss Hart and George Kaufman's THE MAN WHO CAME TO DINNER was the Drama Club's first production opening on October 10. Prominent Drama Club member Stephen Lillis was featured as the irascible but loveable Sheridan Whiteside. Topnotch quality acting was enhanced by the work of the production staff that turned out authentic costumes and a magnificent set that reflected the melieu of the 1930's. Mr. Robert Eagle directed and was assisted by Mrs. Alisca Czarnowski.

"Sorry Wrong Number"

"The Wall"

This year Waltham High's entry in the Regional Drama Festival was "The Wall." It is the moving story of love, life, and death during a revolution. The cast included John Vecchione, as Zohar, the old man; Beverly Beaudoin, as Tonda Attardi, the old woman; Charles Egirous and Steve Lillis as the sentries; Richard Aubert as Malo Zetra; Linda Chilengerian as Matisse Rota and Russ Hammond as Ryko the sailor.

Our congratulations to Steve Lillis who won an All Star Cast Acting Award for his role as Mallor.

Besides working with the cast of "The Wall" Mr. Robert J. Eagle, our friend and devoted director, also worked with the casts of "Sorry, Wrong Number;" Opening Night: and "The Sandbox," which were presented at the night of one-act plays.

"The Sandbox"

"Opening Night"

"The Music Man"

"The Music Man"

For the first time in its history, the Waltham High School Drama Department, in conjunction with the Music Department, presented a Broadway musical. The selection for this "first" was "The Music Man."

The cast will never forget the standing ovation that it received at each of the four performances. However, without the help of Mr. Joseph D. LoPresti, musical director; Mr. Peter J. Kennedy, vocal coach; Mrs. Marcia Biddle, choreographer; Edward D. May, III, accompanist; and Mr. Robert J. Eagle, director, none of this would have been possible.

The class of 1969 wishes to take this opportunity to thank Mr. Eagle for making this a most enjoyable year. Starting with Senior Revue and ending with "The Music Man," this was a year of hard work, coupled with much fun and excitement.

We wish the best of luck to Mr. Eagle as Director of Drama for the Waltham Public Schools.

Saturn Claus

This year's officers were all juniors: President, Denise Cormier; Vice-President, Kathleen Barry; Treasurer, Mary Ellen Baker; and Secretary, Jane Roche. Our objectives as a club are to revitalize Latin as a language of learning and to introduce some semblance of Roman culture to the high school. The first event conducted by the Latin Club was a trip to the Fine Arts Museum in Boston in November. We were taken on a special tour of the Roman and Greek sections.

The second event participated in was the foreign language Christmas party in the cafeteria. Peter Lancto dressed in a red Roman toga with a wreath for his head and was appropriately named Saturn Clause. Holding a scroll he read a history of Saturnalia holidays. All the members joined in singing three Christmas carols in Latin.

The final major event was held May 17th in Needham High School. Approximately thirty Latin students from Waltham High went and participated in the athletic, scholastic, and chariot contests. Our delegation did quite well and we all look forward to an even better next year at the Junior Classical League of Massachusetts Convention.

FACULTY ADVISOR:
Mrs. Czarnowski
PRESIDENT:
Patricia Palumbo
VICE PRESIDENT:
Anne Cocivera
SECRETARY:
Donna Caruso, Janice Jigargian
TREASURER:
Jean Brooks

The F.T.A. is an organization for students who are planning to go into the teaching profession. This year's president, Patricia Palumbo, has contributed to the club's functions with the aid of the faculty advisor, Mrs. Czarnowski.

Activities of this year's club have included a teacher's tea given for Waltham High teachers and school committee members; The F.T.A. ushered at the Waltham Teachers Association fashion show and served refreshments following the program; Lesley college students presented talks about college life and the teaching profession; members attended a school session at the Newhall School to observe the children; and to end the year the club spent an evening out to dinner as a group.

Luck to all our future teachers—may they contribute as much to teaching as our Waltham High teachers have.

Library Council

The Library Council is a service organization under the direction of Mrs. Francis M. Flynn. It is composed of about twenty-five boys and girls who assist in the Library Media Center. The boys are trained to assist with the copying machine, the microfilm reader and the filmstrip projector. They also help in assembling and shelving books. The girls are assigned to the desk and are available to assist students in finding special "reserves" and reference collections. Library Council meetings are scheduled throughout the year.

Sitting: Marsha Colten, Treasurer; Janice Page, Secretary.
Standing: Kathy Burke, Vice President (Girls); Robert Delorey, President; Chuck Lee, Vice President (Boys).

The Student Council is an organization established for the purpose of giving the student body an opportunity to express their opinions in the administration and activities of the high school. It is one of the largest groups in the school, consisting of five Student Council Officers, four class officers, and two Senators from each class. In addition to these main officials, every homeroom elects a representative, and it is these people who make up the main body of the council, bringing to meetings the ideas of the students.

The main functions of the Council within the school are running dances and selling Student Activity Tickets. We also provide Waltham High sweaters, megaphones and shakers for the football games. The proceeds of these sales go to scholarship funds. A pen, pencil and paper machine was recently provided on the first floor.

Student Council

Outside the school, the Council participates in car washes and, as Junior Volunteers for the Red Cross, serve at dinners and meetings and on bloodmobiles. Every year the Student Council takes part in regional and state conventions, at which we seek to better our own Council by meeting and exchanging ideas with others.

"Happiness Is"

Not even the famous New England snowstorms could halt the production of W.H.S.'s 26th annual talent show. The theme of this year's production, "Happiness Is ..." illustrated the various interpretations of happiness, whether they be dancing, singing or playing a musical instrument.

"This week at Waltham High" is in its 19th year of reporting high school news events to Waltham readers. Space for the column is donated by the Waltham News Tribune giving us 15,000 potential readers each week. The purpose of the column is not to alter or shape school policy, but to cover club and school events and other notable occurrences at the Senior High School and the Vocational High School.

A full-time staff open to all WHS students is maintained although faculty and non-members are welcome to submit material for print.

Mr. Hood and Mrs. Shirley are the column's faculty advisors.

JUNIORS

Despite three days of stormy weather and no school, the class of 1970 was not deprived of its Happy Valentine's Day; thanks to our hard-working Prom Committee, under the able direction of William Poirier, and Steven Finamore, the Jr. Prom was still held.

In keeping with the appropriate theme, "Winter Wonderland" and Valentine's Day, the cafeteria opened its doors and welcomed Troops of jolly snowmen and rosy-cheeked ice-skaters; even a gigantic super-snowman found his way inside. Throughout the entire wonderland, little Valentine hearts (and big ones too) cleverly contributed to the atmosphere of gaiety and jollity. In one corner of the winter playground, there was a beautiful chalet where couples could partake of refreshments before returning to the festivities.

We were extremely fortunate to have the popular Vincent Vaccarello and His Orchestra provide us with the appropriate dedications, such as "Respect" for Mr. Husson, "Wonderful One" for Mr. Morang, and "Our Day Will Come," played especially for us.

The climax of the evening was the coronation of the Princess of the Prom and after all the handsome couples paraded throughout the Wonderland, Miss Gail Ryberg, escorted by Steven Joyal, was finally bestown this honor.

After more dancing couples anxiously hurried on their way to be in time for reservations. Everyone had such a marvelous time that we anticipate our Senior Prom with even more Excitement.

This year one of our seniors, Beverly Ann Beaudoin, was chosen Miss Teenage Boston 1968-1969.

On November 23 Beverly, representing Massachusetts, was flown with her mother to Fort-Worth, Texas. There she competed for one week with fifty-eight girls from all over the United States in the Miss Teenage America Pageant, which was nationally televised on CBS TV.

Any girl from thirteen to eighteen years of age is eligible to enter. Judging at all levels of the competition is based on intelligence, talent, poise and appearance. The girl who wins the local and even the national pageant is called upon to speak publicly, to be interviewed, and even to perform for various groups .

It's a year of fun and excitement. We congratulate Beverly on her achievement.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS, WALTHAM COUNCIL, 147

Before you accept that first job . . .

Look over your employer as carefully as he does you

What's the Company like anyway? Would I be proud to work there? Reputation for square dealing with employees? Pleasant surroundings?

Will I be working with others my own age? Are they friendly? Do they socialize after hours?

Will the boss be reasonable? Appreciate good, hard work, but won't explode if I make a mistake?

Will I make a decent week's pay? Have a chance for raises, advancement, more responsibility? How about fringe benefits?

Is the work challenging? I had what it takes to get through high school. Will they give me a chance to use my brains?

> Note: Many young men and women in this area can answer "Yes" to these questions. They work for New England Telephone.
> Why not talk with our employment interviewer soon . . . before you graduate? Ask your Guidance Counselor to tell you when and where to apply.

694 Main Street Waltham 54, Mass.

From learning laboratories to lunar missions… Raytheon makes things happen.

A high school student dials a lesson and learns at his own pace . . . A housewife prepares a meal in minutes in her microwave oven . . . A submarine listens for intruders in the deep . . . A seismograph crew explores for oil beneath an African desert.

A radar scans the skies and a supersonic missile stands ready if needed . . . A new petrochemical plant takes form against a Louisiana sky . . . A phone conversation is carried by microwaves across the Andes to a remote area of Ecuador . . . A tiny computer guides an Apollo spacecraft from orbit to on-target splashdown.

These are but a few of the results of Raytheon technology at work around the world.

Today, Raytheon is an international science-based company employing over 50,000 people. Common threads of technology run through and weave together the company's diverse and growing businesses in both government and commercial markets.

At Raytheon, our future is both exciting and challenging. We hope that your future holds a full measure of excitement and challenge too. Perhaps you will find it with us.

TO ALL SKI CLUB MEMBERS:

Today we realized that the year was rapidly drawing to a close. We sat there thinking and thinking about what we could leave to the Club. Finally we arose. We looked out the windows to see if it was nice or nasty. Fortunately, it was most marvelously nice. We put on our hats, left our abodes, and went to the Prospect Hill Ski Area. We asked the Ski Patrol for a snow bunny, but they said they were all out of snow bunnies, so we went to a bus manufacturer and asked for a super new bus, but he had only one rather third-rate truck left. So, in utter desperation, we went to a rather strange store and asked the saleslady for some absolutely fantastical gift for you. And she went away and then she returned, and guess what she had with her! Well, she had this enormous basket of limburger cheese sandwiches; and so we sat down then and there and promptly proceeded to eat them all up, when along came this huge avalanche, sort of, and we were swept out into the Vast Beyond and, quite frankly, we were nearly killed, not to mention getting frightfully wet and losing our hats. And then we lost consciousness, and when we came to, we were clutching a ragged stuffed St. Bernard and 900 wrinkled "THINK SNOW" stickers, and these being our only worldly possessions, we hereby bequeath them to you.

WHAT DOES THE FUTURE HOLD FOR YOU, CLASS OF '69?

What does the future hold for you,
Class of '69?
A future to be fashioned,
by more than man's design

What does the future hold for you,
Who graduate this year?
Can you rise to meet the challenge,
Over-coming doubt and fear?

Your future's what you make it.
You've earned the right to try,
To remedy the errors,
We've made in years gone by.

Your faith will be a banner,
To fling against the foe;
Your youth and shining new ideals,
Will aid you, as you go.

The knowledge you've acquired,
Will lend a kindly light;
To brighten up your pathway
To a future that is bright.

Your courage to do what is good,
Will open up the door;
To a life where man can live with man,
And war will be no more.

You have so very much to give,
And now you must decide;
To face the future squarely,
With brotherhood on your side.

What does the future hold for you,
Class of '69?
A chance to make a better world,
For yourself and all mankind.
